

September 13 2025

Dear Friends,

We hope to see all of you during our Water Communion service this Sunday. Please bring a small amount of water from a place that is special to you. We will add all the water into one large bowl and each of us will tell why the water is special to us. The combined water is symbolic of our shared faith coming from many different sources.

This week's forum: Shawn D'Abreu on the dangers of Christian Nationalism.

Next week's forum: Our own, Betty Cooper, will speak on International Day of Peace; discussion will focus on the meaning and significance of that day.

This week's Sermon- Water Communion Sermon

Children attending in-person are welcome to join RE Instructor Dr Samantha Porter for a lesson during the service hour. September's theme: Nurturing Belonging

Just a reminder for our “get-together” on Friday, September 19, starting at 6:30 pm. Please come if you are interested in getting to know each other better. Feel free to bring friends, spouses, significant others. All are welcome!! Bring something to eat and drink if you like. If you have a favorite game, please bring it!

Lunch After Services

Please join us for lunch after the service. This weeks lunch will be at El Espolon

This Week's Joys & Concerns:

**Rita Dockery would like to thank Betty Cooper & Maridee Edwards for assisting her this week as she is having surgery.

If you have a joy or concern that you would like to have read during a service or shared in our weekly email, please submit it by noon on the Friday before through our website: <http://uufjc.org/joys--concerns.html>

We will also have paper forms available Sunday morning for submissions. Submissions made after noon on Friday may not be read or shared until the following week.

Book Club

The September Intergenerational Classical Book Study is:

And Then There Were None

by Agatha Christie

We will meet in the Forum Room

September 14 at 2 pm; join us for an engaging discussion.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

This past Wednesday, a large group of 5000+ protesters showed up at the Capital. Governor Mike Kehoe received a request from President Trump to change the gerrymandering of our state. One of the areas affected most, seems to be the Kansas City area. Bus loads of those citizens showed up on Wednesday to protest the change. This protest was held by RESPECT MISSOURI VOTERS.

This coming Saturday, September 20, there will be another protest at the capital and this will be hosted by WE STAND UNITED MISSOURI. I have reserved a spot on the Capital grounds for our table to represent the Unitarian Universalists Fellowship of Jefferson City. So wear your "I stand with love" shirt and join the rally. I was informed that all spots for the rally have been reserved.

This may be a little discombobulated, but I have spent most of the week in Springfield, Missouri welcoming the arrival of our new great grandson.

In love and peace
Joan

At one of our early meetings with Rev Tom Bozeman, the subject of opportunities for UUFJC members and friends to talk about their personal spiritual journey. Tom recommended a book by John Buerhens and Rebecca Ann Parker entitled, “A House for Hope” and the use of a study guide available at the UUA bookstore.

Our fellowship now owns two copies of the book that may be borrowed. It’s also available for purchase on the UUA website and as a Kindle e-book.

Here is an excerpt from the book: “Hope is rising. The political tide in the US has turned, and people across the country who have been working for years for social change and justice finally feel as though they aren’t struggling alone. Yet for those who ground their social activism in progressive religious belief, it is all too easy to feel spiritually divided and isolated, daunted by the apparent dominance of religious fundamentalists in the media and politics. The impact of liberal religion is richer and more far —reaching than many know— a force for good that has inspired and supported two centuries of American social progress, from the abolition of slavery and the securing of women’s rights, to the present day struggles of marriage equality, ecological responsibility, and global peace. In order to sustain our spirits and advance positive social change, progressive people need to claim the transforming power of our theological heritage.

Authored by two leading progressive theologians, “A House for Hope” affirms that the shared hopes of religious progressives from many traditions can create a movement far stronger than fundamentalism: a liberal religious renaissance. Yet for it to flourish, progressive people must rediscover the spiritual sustenance available in the theological house our liberal forebears built, and embrace what our tradition truly holds sacred, as well as understanding what it rejects.

In lively and engaging language, A House for Hope suggests that liberal religious commitment is based on expansive love for life rather than adherence to narrow dogma. With chapters that reveal the political and personal relevance of the enduring questions at the heart of this theology, A House for Hope shows how religious liberals have countered fundamentalists for generations, and provides progressives with not only a theological but also a spiritual foundation for the challenges of the twenty-first century.
